HANNEGAN CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

Sum of $2,975 is Raised to Pay Off
Debt and Make Additional Improvements

MANY PASTORS ARE PRESENT

At the dedication of the Hannegan Christian church Sunday, the sum of $2,975 was raised to pay off the debt which was incurred by remodeling the church and to make some other improvements which are contemplated. The goal for the day was $3,000, although the debt was only $2,400, but the church officials asked for $600 additional to make some further changes.

The church would not accommodate the crowd which was present for the ceremony. A basket dinner was served at noon and was enjoyed by several hundred persons. Services were held in the morning at the usual hours and in the afternoon the main address was delivered by the Rev. L. E. Brown of this city.

The following visiting pastors were present and some of them made short talks: The Rev. Talmage DeFrees of the Little Flatrock church the Rev. Mr. Crawley of Big Flatrock, the Rev. Lyman Hoover, pastor of the Sexton church, the Rev. W. F. Schrontz of Orange, the Rev. Mr. Burns of Gwynneville and the Rev. Mr. Hosier of Charlottesville.

The Hannegan congregation is one of the oldest in the county, dating back to 1823. The present church was erected in 1863.

POLICEMAN PEATURNS IN BADGE

Resigns From Police Force Today
Following Trouble With Mrs. Artie Mills Sunday Morning

WOMAN SPENDS NIGHT IN JAIL

Declares Policeman and Other Men
Assaulted Her—Pea and Others
Tell Different Story

Policeman Charles Pea turned over his badge and keys to A. P. Wagoner, chairman of the police committee of the city council, and resigned, this morning.

His resignation followed an episode here early Sunday morning when he arrested Mrs. Artie Mills, formerly of Connersville, a dishwasher at the Windsor hotel, for alleged drunkenness.

Mrs. Mills declares that the policeman assaulted her and treated her roughly, but Pea declared to Councilman Wagoner, who conducted an investigation Sunday, that he did not mistreat her, and his story was supported by the testimony of three young men who said they were with the policeman when he took Mrs. Mills to jail.

It is said that Policeman Pea's resignation was not the direct outgrowth of the trouble Saturday night, but that it is rather the culmination of a series of complaints which have been made against him.

A few nights ago a suit case was taken from the running board of a machine belonging to tourists who were passing through the city, and because no arrests were made, Policeman Pea was blamed by many people who complained to members of the city council.

According to the story told to Councilman Wagoner, Mrs. Mills arrived here from Connersville on the last car Saturday evening, went to a restaurant for a few minutes and then started to the Windsor hotel. She said that she was approached by a crowd of men, among them the policeman, who led her around the streets. They finally agreed to take her to the hotel, she declares, and after she had ascended the first flight of stairs, the policeman went up after her and took her to jail. The woman was released Sunday morning.

Policeman Pea's story, which is backed up by the stories of three young men who said they were with Pea, is to the effect that the woman was drunk. He told Councilman Wagoner he was called from his home about two o'clock Sunday morning by telephone and asked to come to the police station as there was a woman there looking for a policeman.

Pea declared that the woman could give no explanation for pounding on the door of the police station and calling for a policeman, and that as she acted like she was drunk, he told her he was going to take her to jail. The policeman told Councilman Wagoner that he asked the three boys to accompany him as he expected the woman to make accusations against him. The names of the boys were given as Barnes, Barrett and Goodin, who told the same story.

Pea said that he started to take the woman to jail but finally consented to allow her to go to the hotel. When she reached the first landing going to her room, she made some sort of a retort to the policeman, threatening to have him arrested, and he went up after her and took her to jail. It is said the woman's screams aroused the guests in the hotel, but that Pea took her on to jail where she spent the night.

Dr. E. I. Wooden was called to see the woman yesterday. He said he found no indications of her being beaten and that she bore no marks except a small black and blue spot on one of her arms.

After a forty-eight hour rest, he will leave again to tour Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Indiana.

A. L. GARY TO HEAR THE CLEVENGER CASE

Appointed Special Judge After Each
Side Strikes Off Two Names
Submitted by Court

TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY

A. L. Gary today was appointed special judge by Judge Sparks to hear the case of the state against Martin Clevenger accused of keeping a gaming house. The trial will be held Wednesday.

Judge Sparks declined to hear the case because he will be a witness, inasmuch as he walked in on an alleged "craps" game at Clevenger's place a week ago Saturday night.

Judge Sparks submitted the names of the following Rushville attorneys, with the request that both the state and the defense strike off two names and with the understanding that the fifth man act as judge: T. M. Green, Howard E. Barrett, B. F. Miller, John A. Tittsworth and A. L. Gary. The names of all but Mr. Gary were stricken off.

Clevenger was arraigned on three charges Saturday—one for gaming, one for keeping a gaming house and one for inducing minors to gamble. He pleaded guilty to all three and his bond, $200 in each case, was provided.

BLAKLEY COUGHLIN SMOTHERED TO DEATH

Mystery of Disappearance of Norristown Child Solved by August
Pasquale's Confession

DIED WHILE IN HIS ARMS

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—Blakley Coughlin, the missing Norristown baby, was accidentally smothered and later buried near Edd Harbor, New Jersey, by August Pasquale, who confessed of the kidnapping of the child, in the jail at Norristown, yesterday, Major Adams, of the state police, announced today.

Pasquale revealed the complete details of the kidnapping of the child, in the jail, Major Adams stated.

Pasquale sent for him and told of the killing of the baby. He told of entering the Coughlin home, where he took the child and placed it under his coat. At some distance from the home he stopped to take the child from underneath the coat and found that it had been smothered to death.

Major Adams refused to give out any information as to the exact place where the child was buried. Captain Gearhart was sent to the exact vicinity to obtain the body of the child.

"Pasquale told him," Adams declared, "that he had gone into the room where the baby was sleeping and while he was leaving the house he heard a noise, and concealed the baby under his coat. He stated he ran from the home and when a short distance away, he unbuttoned his coat and found the child smothered to death."

In his confession he asserted that he had written a series of notes to the child's parents, demanding $12,000 ransom.

GIVES OUT TEXT OF PARIS SPEECH

White House Makes Public What
President Said in Regard to
Sending Troops Abroad

WAS ASKED TO SHOW RECORD

Senator Spencer Insisted on Text
When Wilson Denied Promising
Foreigners Aid

(By United Press)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—Standing by his original declaration that President Wilson promised Roumania and Serbia military protection at the eighth preliminary session of the peace conference, Senator Spencer declared there is no difference in substance between the reports of his speech made public by the president and the official stenographic report.

Spencer declared that the report made public by the president was a clear statement promising aid to Serbia and Roumania.

"Nothing can conceal the plans which the president attempted to make for his country, in that American soldiers will be sent overseas whenever needed," Spencer declared.

Spencer again demanded to know why the president does not produce the official records.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The White House made public today what was described as an "official version" of President Wilson's address at the eighth plenary session of the Paris peace conference. The exact wording of this address, directed to the representatives of Roumania, Serbia and Czechoslovakia, has been the subject of a controversy between the President and Senator Spencer.

The senator said in a political speech that the President had promised Roumania and Serbia that "if any nation ever invaded their territory he would send the American army across the seas to defend their boundary lines."

Mr. Wilson in a telegram to the senator October 5 said this statement was "false." In reply, Senator Spencer called for the official record, saying the statement to which he had referred was in the "stenographic notes" of the eighth plenary session, in which the President was "reported to have said: 'You must not forget that it is force that is the final guaranty of the peace of the world. If the world is again troubled the United States will send to this end of the ocean their army and their fleet.'"

The President's words, as given in the official version, follow:

"How can a power like the United States, for example—and I can speak for no other—after signing this treaty, if it contains elements which they do not believe, will be permanent, go 3,000 miles away across the seas and report to its people that it has made a settlement of the peace of the world? It can not do so. And yet there underlies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example of Roumania, and of Czechoslovakia, and of Serbia, that if any covenants of this settlement are not observed, the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed."

The official version of the full text of the President's address was given to the White House last week by Fred A. Carison, of Chicago, who was an official stenographer with the American peace delegation, and who wrote that he would "be glad to swear to the accuracy" of the translation. Mr. Carison's letter was dated October 6, and was addressed to Charles L. Swem, stenographer to the President. He explained that he had read Senator Spencer's reply to the President in the Chicago newspapers; that he had just gone over his notes and that he could find "no such statement" as that attributed to Mr. Wilson by the senator. He added that it was barely possible that the quotation "was from a translation into English of M. Mantoux's translation into French of the President's remarks, and, as you know, the translations sometimes mixed things up a bit."

HARDING AT WICHITA

Wichita, Kansas, Oct. 9.—"America must not go into the league of nations with the idea of slipping out of its obligations," Senator Warren G. Harding declared today in a speech. "What do you think of the honesty of America which tries to sneak out of its promises? I want honest America pledged at home and also across the sea."

Wisdom From Carlyle.

The world is a thing that a man must learn to despise, and even to neglect, before he can learn to reverence it and work in it and for it.—Carlyle.

Last Night's Dreams —What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF STATUES?

THE modern scientific investigators of dream phenomena all deny, of course, the prophetic quality of dreams. Except in one regard. They say that perhaps—and they emphasize the "perhaps"—in the dream state some incipient disease or disorder of the system may manifest itself in dream symbolism, which said incipient disease or functional disorder would not be manifest to the dreamer in his waking state because as yet of too trifling a nature to exert an impression upon the mind while occupied by the world of relatives. That there should be found in this way people who still cling to the idea of a supernatural origin of dreams is ascribed by the scientists to the fact that their attempted psychological explanations have, so far, been too inadequate to overcome the accumulated superstitions of the centuries. And when we consider the vast number of years that man has inhabited the earth and that civilization as we know it is but a thing of yesterday—as late as 1746 a cow was criminally prosecuted in a French court and a dog was executed for witchcraft in Salem in 1692—when we consider this, it is not surprising that there linger in us psychic remnants of the days when our naked ancestors shuddered at the jugglery of the Druid priests in the circle of Stonehenge.

To the ancients dreams were serious matters, though as early as the time of Julius Caesar the wise had begun to scoff at them, as will be remembered in connection with the celebrated dream of Caesar's wife Calphurnia. On the night before Caesar's assassination she dreamed that she saw her husband's statue running with blood from many wounds and the Romans coming to bathe their hands in the purple stream. She begged Caesar not to go to the senate that day, but he refused to stay away lest the senators should laugh at him for being afraid "because his wife had had a dream." Calphurnia's dream was probably born of her anxiety for the safety of her husband, but the mystics agree with her in regarding it an unfavorable omen to dream of a statue. They say, however, that if you dream of several statues, you will shortly receive a valuable present from an esteemed friend—a case, apparently, of safety in numbers.

The Revenge of Lycurgus.

"Which of us does not admire what Lycurgus the Spartan did? A young citizen had put out his eye and been handed over to him by his people to be punished at his own discretion. Lycurgus abstained from all vengeance, but on the contrary instructed and made a good man of him. Producing him in public in the theater, he said to the astonished Spartans: 'I received this young man at your hands full of violence and wanton insolence; I restore him to you in his right mind and fit to serve his country.'"—From "The Golden Sayings of Epictetus."

Amusements

"The Prey" for 2 Days

In "The Prey", by Joseph Le Brandt, and Alice Joyce special Vitagraph production, the popular star has unusual opportunities for the display of her remarkable powers of expression on the screen. At the opening of the picture drama of society, finance and reform politics, which will be shown at the Princess theater on Monday and Tuesday, as Holene Reardon she appears as a joyous, healthy and beautiful young woman who has just said, "Yes" to a handsome and altogether desirable young man. Her father calls her fiancée, whom he has helped rise in his profession, and Helen goes to her room, cooing over her engagement ring.

At first in her mirror, then in profile and full face, is seen the changing expression, of perplexity, alarm and distress, as she hears the voices of her father and her lover raised in anger. She creeps down the stairway and hears her father call James Calvin "an ungrateful cur". Calvin refuses to explain to Helen, as he could not so without accusing her father, and she gives him back the ring.

In many tense scenes which follow Helen is horrified over her father's suicide, shocked and troubled by the danger to her brother, disgusted and angered at the conduct of the man circumstances have compelled her to marry, and in the end triumphant over all circumstances.

The role is a splendid one in every way for Miss Joyce, and splendidly the charming Vitagraph star has risen to the occasion.

The Great Red Plague

There was a time when the average person gave no thought and would not lend any support to a movement designed to check the spread of venereal diseases, but the war opened the eyes of many who were not aware of the true conditions. Since the close of the war, too, the prevalence of the great red plague has aroused the medical fraternity to renewed efforts to stamp

it out. Considerable publicity will be given the effort which is now being made to educate the public in regard to this menace when the All-American conference meets in Washington in December to discuss methods of combatting the plague.

The extent of this loss to employers whose working forces it decimates, to working men whose pay envelopes it depletes, and to the country at large whose production it reduces was scarcely suspected until the Army records of the millions of young men examined for the War were studied. Before then it was suspected to be great, but no one imagined that it was anything like so great as it has now been proved to be.

The records show that every thousand men in the army lost on an average more than 300 days per year—1,600,000 days for five million soldiers in the prime of life, and if the loss was so great among men subject to military discipline and under orders to seek immediate help, how great, it is now asked, must it be among the same men when in civil life when no discipline is possible. The ravages of hookworm disease in certain parts of the country are a drop in the bucket compared to the ravages of the great red plague.

Many possible methods of checking the plague in workshops and factories have been suggested and will be threshed out at the conference, which will be attended by the most experienced physicians and administrators of the nations of the three Americans can send.

There is today no longer any doubt that medical science now possesses means that would enable it to conquer the red plague as completely as it has conquered smallpox and yellow fever if it were given free scope to apply them. The real trouble nowadays arises largely from ignorance and from the hesitation of so many sufferers to seek reliable medical aid until the disease has established itself and has become difficult to dislodge. With modern methods the red plague is now definitely curable.

The conditions now confronting the people of this country are somewhat similar to those that confront

the British in their work of eradicating the bubonic (black) plague in India. There the first thought of the average native, when stricken by disease, is to hide himself in the crowded warrens of the city and to die there after exposing to his disease everyone within reach. With the British as with us the first problem is to induce the victims to come forward before it is too late.

Through the efforts of the U. S. public health service and others engaged in combatting the red plague many of the states in the country have begun to provide facilities where its victims can obtain adequate diagnosis and treatment, including the administration of 606 when required. Much still needs to be done in this direction and it will be one of the aims of the conference to arouse states and municip-

Sen. Reed is from Missouri. He would like to know something about the president's secret speeches before the conference and just how many troops he promised to send from America to protect Serbia and Roumania's integrity. Although still a democrat, the senator can not swallow the Wilson league of nations dotted "i's", crossed "t's" and all.

No doubt the republican committee would be glad to pay the expenses of Franklin Roosevelt's campaign tour through Indiana because he offers one sure way of increasing the majority.

Evidently finding the issues of the campaign beyond him, Tom Taggart is now devoting his attention to long orations on good roads in his campaign tour throughout Indiana.

The number of farms in Indiana has decreased four and eight-tenths percent in the last ten years, which is some indication of the Hoosier farmer's prosperity.

Harding's Vision

(New Albany Tribune)

Senator Harding is getting off more "good stuff" in his speeches than has been uttered by any other Presidential candidate in recent year. What Harding says rings true and is true. The American people believe in him and have confidence in what he says. Harding seeks a return to "The Main Road." He predicts dark days unless a change occurs very soon. He sees a "no hour" day if our country is too proud to work and we should continue the One-Man Wilson policy. Harding urges that Americans be not too proud to work as there is great joy in a day of productive work. He says: "Undeniably there is a feeling permeating the American mind that great harm has been done by unwise heads and prodigal hands." Let our watchword be "America First."

THE WATERMELON

THE watermelon is a pleasing and harmless beverage which is 20 per cent water and 80 per cent seeds, much on the order of picnic lemonade. Owing to the lack of alcohol in the watermelon, it is much in favor with the clergy and can be shipped into a dry state without requiring the customer to swear that it is bought for medicinal purposes only.

Watermelons are grown largely in the South and are used to sustain and inflate the colored brother. When a greedy, wabble-jointed cotton hand has wrapped himself around a thirty-pound watermelon and settled back for a sonorous nap, he will look as if somebody had attached a tire pump to him and forgotten to shut off the engine. The look of perfect contentment which fastens itself upon the face of a Georgia darkey who has eaten six or eight two-story watermelons, seeds and all, is enough to cause a hardened dyspeptic to jump off the lake front.

The watermelon has been grown in this country for a hundred years and thousands have been eaten by our college professors and other shining intellects, but nobody has ever discovered a way to prevent it from running to seeds and clogging up the windpipe of the trustful Northerner. The watermelon would be served at polite social functions more if it were not for the harrowing fear on the part of the hostess that some nervous male guest will get a few seeds upside down in his neck and have to be operated on with a pair of duckbill pliers. To a country which boasts the incubator baby and the noncorrosive banana the presence of the watermelon seed is a standing reproach.

Watermelons intended for shipment are picked before they have had time to get ripe anywhere except on the surface, when they are sent into the far North and bought unsight and unseen by people who hope for the best. All such purchases are usually followed by disappointment and a rebellious uprising in the stomach. Economical housewives try to get even by manufacturing the watermelon pickle, which is fed all winter to cowed husbands, who are too broken-spirited to resist.

The watermelon is a great delicacy when it is allowed to stretch out and get ripe internally. If there were more of this kind of watermelons to be had, the average grocer would not wear such a hunted look.

Tanlac Display Makes Great Hit

Unique And Attractive Display Of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest, has been placed in the show window of the F. B. Johnson & Company drug store, on Main street, in this city, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietors of the store state that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist.

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, llamas and other beasts of burden for transportation by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value, and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day.

From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body-builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they received, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their products in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McCarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2—Adv.

Earth's grandest hearts have been loving hearts. Since time and earth began, and the boy who kisses his mother is every inch a man. —Eben Rexford.

TOOTHsome DAINTIES.

Some of these dishes may be a little too much work for every day, but will be found very satisfactory for occasions:

Chestnut Salad.

Cook one pound of Italian chestnuts, shelled and blanched, in chicken or veal broth seasoned with vegetables. When tender, let cool and cut in shreds. Cut tomato jelly into cubes or other shapes, shred half a green pepper, cut a bunch of lettuce or endive into shreds. Wash and dry the hearts of two heads of lettuce. Arrange the lettuce on salad plates, sprinkle with the shredded foods, and set a tomato cube above. Pour over two tablespoonfuls of dressing and serve at once. To prepare the jelly: Soak one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water. Place over the heat two cupfuls and a half of tomato, three branches of parsley, half a dozen celery tips, one-fourth of a bay leaf, half an onion with two cloves thrust into it, half a teaspoonful of salt, paprika or a piece of chili pepper, a tablespoonful of dried mushrooms. Let simmer twenty minutes and press through a fine sieve. Add the softened gelatin, stir until dissolved, then turn into a dish to mold. When cold use as above.

Dressing for Chestnut Salad.

Cut a Bermuda onion in halves and with a sharp knife scrape the juice from one-half of the onion into a bowl. Add one-third of a cupful of vinegar, one-fourth of a cupful of tomato catsup, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of mushroom catsup, half a teaspoonful of paprika and half a teaspoonful of salt. Stir until well blended with three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil.

Lightning Cake.

Beat half a cupful of butter to a cream, add gradually one-half cupful of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, beat until light, add three tablespoonfuls of milk and lastly one cupful of flour, sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Spread the mixture in a shallow baking pan. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff; gradually beat into them three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, then fold in one-half cupful of almonds, blanched and shredded lengthwise. Spread this mixture evenly over the cake, dredge the top with sugar and cinnamon and bake thirty minutes. Cut in strips when serving.

Potato Dumplings.

Take two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, add salt and nutmeg to taste, one egg well beaten, half a cupful of buttered cubes of bread browned in butter, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley or marjoram; mix well, form into balls rolled in flour and cook in boiling salted water ten minutes. Remove carefully from the dish, cover with buttered breadcrumbs, browned in butter.

Tongue Canapes.

Toast rounds of bread and spread them to the edge with butter, beaten to a cream and mixed with mustard; have ready some rounds of cold boiled tongue, cut thin and a little smaller than the rounds of toast; there should be a ring of mustard butter completely round the tongue. With a paper tube pipe a little of the mustard butter in the center of each canape and serve very cold.

From Sea's Depths.

A two-inch section of sea-bottom with its tiny animal and plant life magnified 15,000 times has been reproduced in glass and wax at the American Museum of Natural History, New York. It is called the Bryozoa group, taking its name from the minute sea-animalcules popularly called sea-mats and sea-mosses, that it depicts. Their shells are encrusted on sea-weeds, pebbles and the shells of larger animals, and are said to be extremely beautiful in their intricate form and coloring. The "plumed worm" with its gay colors and other strange microscopic creatures, of which the average person seldom dreams, complete the group.

His Wife Almost A Nervous Wreck

He tells how Dreco overcame cold sweats, heart fluttering, gastritis, headaches and roused a lazy liver, banished constipation.

"My wife Margaret was in such bad health that we were very much alarmed about her. She had cold sweats and heart weakness and was so dizzy and unsteady on her feet that she didn't want to go out for fear she would fall," said Mr. J. N. Christianberry who resides at 1313 Liberty Ave., Terre Haute, Ind.

"Night meant one long line of terror for her; it was sometime before she could get to sleep, then her sleep was fitful, full of bad dreams and she would jump almost out of bed, awakening badly frightened. Her head ached so, along with a sick stomach that she just couldn't eat and what little she did eat wouldn't digest, but formed gas, she suffered from constipation daily.

"She has taken three bottles of Dreco, which soothe her nerves until she sleeps like a tired child, eats and enjoys whatever she wants having no bad after-effects and her bowels discharge the wastes of the body in a normal easy and regular manner. She has no more trouble with her kidneys and says she wants all the world to know that Dreco has made a woman of her."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.—Adv.

TAIL LIGHTS WIN OVER OLD PITCHER

Pole Out Six Hits on Plummer in Game With Homer Sunday, Winning by Score of 4 to 1

VISITORS HELD TO ONE HIT

With their old favorite on the mound for their opponents, the Tail Lights won from Homer, 4 to 1, not because Plummer pitched a poor game but because he was not given the proper support. The locals only gleaned six hits off their former idol, but the errors of the Homer team made it possible for them to pile up a safe margin.

Neideffer was on the mound for the Tail Lights and held the Homer team, to one hit, which, together with four errors, made it possible for the visitors to score. Homer strengthened in an effort to win, but couldn't turn the trick.

There was a large crowd out for the game and the interest in the game was high because Homer came "loaded" to win. The Tail Lights will probably play New Salem here next Sunday.

Neglect Keeps Doctors Busy

An eminent physician once said: "Were it not for people who neglect the early symptoms of disease, many doctors would have to find a new way to make a living."

Every winter doctors are busy calling on gripe and pneumonia patients because the first symptoms of colds were neglected.

Watch out for a cold this year. At the first sneeze and sniffle take Lightning Laxative Quinine Tablets. You'll stop the cold and feel like a new person in 24 hours. Never gripe or sicken. Drug-gists guarantee them.—25c a box.

Look Out for Rheumatism As Winter Approaches

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny disease germ that infests the blood, that physicians are beginning to realize that this source of the disease is becoming quite prevalent. Of course a disease that has its source in the blood cannot be reached by local remedies applied to the surface.

blood remedy that has been sold by druggists for more than fifty years. S.S.S. acts by driving out of the blood the disease germ that causes Rheumatism, thus affording real relief.

Begin taking S.S.S. today and if you will write a complete history of your case, our medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 151 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

SHIPPED TO BELGIUM

Chickens are Sent From Purdue to
The Near East Country

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 11—Two dozen hens, half of them White Leghorns and the other half Plymouth
Rocks, have been shipped from the Purdue University poultry farm to Francis Masson, Rue Joseph Lambottte, Junte, Belgium, who expects to use them for egg production and also keep some of their eggs for hatching purposes. For several years Mr. Masson lived in the United States and heard of the high egg laying strains developed at Purdue and when he returned to Belgium ordered the hens through his son-in-law, David H. Padgett, a Vincennes attorney. Masson reported that eggs were now selling at $1.32 a dozen in Belgium and that he expected them to go to $2.40 before the winter was over.

Coal Don't Waste It!

YOU can save coal this winter if you don't burn more than you actually need to keep your home comfortable. Alternately over-heating and under-heating your house is one of the chief causes of wasted fuel and this can be entirely overcome by the installation of

The "MINNEAPOLIS" HEAT REGULATOR
"The Heart of the Heating Plant"

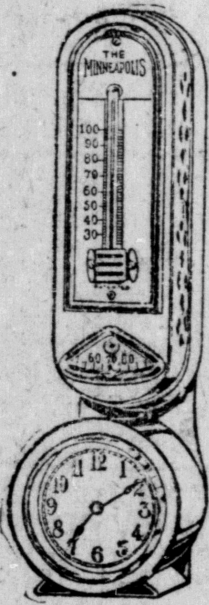

It is an automatic device that takes over the working of the drafts and dampers of any style heating plant. It keeps the home at an even temperature all the time—no more coal is burned than is actually needed.

Your home will be really more comfortable and healthful with less worry and attention than ever before. It takes over the bothersome work of managing the furnace.

THE "MINNEAPOLIS" WILL SOON PAY FOR ITSELF IN FUEL SAVED.

WEST COAST IS READY FOR TITLE

Foot Ball Teams From Mexico to Canada are Numerous and all are Strong

MANY IMPORTANT GAMES ON

Oregon Will be Strong With Same Team That Held Harvard to Standstill Last Year

By M. D. TRACY

San Francisco, Oct. 11—It looks like a tough year for pigs.

There will have to be a heap of them slaughtered, for Pacific Coast footballers are going to kick more pigskins around the gridiron this year than in many a year past.

American football on the coast finally has come into its own once more after surviving the combined attacks of the war and the importation of the Rugby game. Colleges from Canada to Mexico have launched the season with full schedules and with coaches and backers loudly proclaiming that they have the real stuff.

What's more the general public is taking heed, and listening with the result that there is more football interest in the west than there has been for a decade.

With the season just opening the University of California, the University of Southern California and Washington State, the University of Washington and Oregon Agricultural seem to be the outstanding teams of their respective sections.

But the general situation is far from clear for Stanford and the southern branch of the University of California have big squads out and dopesters almost without exception regard them as mysterious elements. Stanford came back to the American game and the inner circle of collegiate sport last year after first prolonging a flirtation with Rugby and then quarreling with the University of California over the question of permitting freshmen to play. Last year her showing was a bit sorry. But this year Stanford is "viewed with alarm" by numerous gridiron seers.

The University of California southern Branch in Los Angeles boasts an enrollment of 2,500 and with Harry Trotter as coach, is promising to put some exotic seasoning into the coast football pudding.

In the Pacific northwest Washington State and the University of Washington have strong back fields, while the Oregon Aggies are concentrating on the development of a line, feeling that their backs are in a class with any.

The University of Oregon team which fought Harvard to a standstill in the East-West game on New Year's Day at Pasadena, will be weakened considerably this year by the loss of many of its veterans. Coach Shy Huntington, is about all there is left of last year's machine.

The University of California is conceded things pretty much its own way in northern California, unless Stanford carries out its threat to spoil the dope sheets.

Southern California is backing the University of Southern California to beat the University of California and represent the west in the East-West game at Pasadena. The Methodists have many of their last year's men back on the squad. Pomona's team is virtually the same as last year—light and speedy. Occidental is admittedly weak.

Two important intersectional games are scheduled, both with northwestern teams representing the coast, in addition to the Pasadena classic New Year's day. Washington State will play Nebraska at Lincoln on Nov. 25 and Dartmouth will play the University of Washington at Seattle November 27.

$200,000 OF DIAMONDS STOLEN FROM AGENT

M. Lowenthal, Representing Philip Present Company, Attacked by Two Men in New York

FOLLOWED HIM FROM CHICAGO

Brooklyn, New York, Oct. 11—Two hundred thousand dollars worth of set diamonds were stolen from M. Lowenthal, agent for the Philip Present Company, wholesale jewelers, of Rochester, New York, by two men here Saturday.

When Lowenthal stepped from the street car on his way to his home, carrying the diamonds in two suitcases, he was attacked by the two men.

After knocking their victim down and forcing him to give up the diamonds at the point of a revolver, they jumped into a taxicab and drove away. The driver of the taxicab drove the two men to the front of the police station. When he went into the station to call the police the two robbers escaped.

Shortly afterward two suspected men were seen throwing a suitcase into a vacant lot. When the suitcase was examined, it had been looted of its valuable but two or three diamonds were left.

Lowenthal believes the robbers had followed him from Chicago, where he purchased the diamonds. The diamonds were set in platinum.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells. Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

MOUNT VERNON, ILL.—"I am glad to say that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription proved just as good as it is advertised to be. I was weak and lacked strength and ambition. I had worked hard and was poorly. I used the 'Favorite Prescription' and it gave me new strength, and seemed to put new life in me. I was pleased that it did so much for me and I am very glad to recommend it."—MRS. WILL NEWBY, No. 1213 West Broadway.

HANNEGAN CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

Sum of $2,975 is Raised to Pay Off
Debt and Make Additional Improvements

MANY PASTORS ARE PRESENT

At the dedication of the Hannegan Christian church Sunday, the sum of $2,975 was raised to pay off the debt which was incurred by remodeling the church and to make some other improvements which are contemplated. The goal for the day was $3,000, although the debt was only $2,400, but the church officials asked for $600 additional to make some further changes.

The church would not accommodate the crowd which was present for the ceremony. A basket dinner was served at noon and was enjoyed by several hundred persons. Services were held in the morning at the usual hour and in the afternoon the main address was delivered by the Rev. L. E. Brown of this city.

The following visiting pastors were present and some of them made short talks: The Rev. Talmage DeFrees of the Little Flatrock church the Rev. Mr. Crawley of Big Flatrock, the Rev. Lyman Hoover, pastor of the Sexton church, the Rev. W. F. Schronitz of Orange, the Rev. Mr. Burns of Gwynneville and the Rev. Mr. Hosier of Charlottesville.

The Hannegan congregation is one of the oldest in the county, dating back to 1823. The present church was erected in 1863.

POLICEMAN PEA TURNS IN BADGE

Resigns From Police Force Today
Following Trouble With Mrs. Artie Mills Sunday Morning

WOMAN SPENDS NIGHT IN JAIL

Declares Policeman and Other Men
Assaulted Her—Pea and Others
Tell Different Story

Policeman Charles Pea turned over his badge and keys to A. P. Wagoner, chairman of the police committee of the city council, and resigned, this morning.

His resignation followed an episode here early Sunday morning when he arrested Mrs. Artie Mills, formerly of Connersville, a dishwasher at the Windsor hotel, for alleged drunkenness.

Mrs. Mills declares that the policeman assaulted her and treated her roughly, but Pea declared to Councilman Wagoner, who conducted an investigation Sunday, that he did not mistreat her, and his story was supported by the testimony of three young men who said they were with the policeman when he took Mrs. Mills to jail.

It is said that Policeman Pea's resignation was not the direct outgrowth of the trouble Saturday night, but that it is rather the culmination of a series of complaints which have been made against him.

A few nights ago a suit case was taken from the running board of a machine belonging to tourists who were passing through the city, and because no arrests were made, Policeman Pea was blamed by many people who complained to members of the city council.

According to the story told to Councilman Wagoner, Mrs. Mills arrived here from Connersville on the last car Saturday evening, went to a restaurant for a few minutes and then started to the Windsor hotel. She said that she was approached by a crowd of men, among them the policeman, who led her around the streets. They finally agreed to take her to the hotel, she declares, and after she had ascended the first flight of stairs, the policeman went up after her and took her to jail. The woman was released Sunday morning.

Policeman Pea's story, which is backed up by the stories of three young men who said they were with Pea, is to the effect that the woman was drunk. He told Councilman Wagoner he was called from his home about two o'clock Sunday morning by telephone and asked to come to the police station as there was a woman there looking for a policeman.

Pea declared that the woman could give no explanation for pounding on the door of the police station and calling for a policeman, and that as she acted like she was drunk, he told her he was going to take her to jail. The policeman told Councilman Wagoner that he asked the three boys to accompany him as he expected the woman to make accusations against him. The names of the boys were given as Barnes, Barrett and Goodin, who told the same story.

Pea said that he started to take the woman to jail but finally consented to allow her to go to the hotel. When she reached the first landing going to her room, she made some sort of a retort to the policeman, threatening to have him arrested, and he went up after her and took her to jail. It is said the woman's screams aroused the guests in the hotel, but that Pea took her on to jail where she spent the night.

Dr. E. I. Wooden was called to see the woman yesterday. He said he found no indications of her being beaten and that she bore no marks except a small black and blue spot on one of her arms.

After a forty-eight hour rest, he will leave again to tour Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri and Indiana.

A. L. GARY TO HEAR THE CLEVINGER CASE

Appointed Special Judge After Each
Side Strikes Off Two Names
Submitted by Court

TRIAL SET FOR WEDNESDAY

A. L. Gary today was appointed special judge by Judge Sparks to hear the case of the state against Martin Clevenger accused of keeping a gaming house. The trial will be held Wednesday.

Judge Sparks declined to hear the case because he will be a witness, inasmuch as he walked in on an alleged "craps" game at Clevenger's place a week ago Saturday night.

Judge Sparks submitted the names of the following Rushville attorneys, with the request that both the state and the defense strike off two names and with the understanding that the fifth man act as judge: T. M. Green, Howard E. Barrett, B. F. Miller, John A. Tittsworth and A. L. Gary. The names of all but Mr. Gary were stricken off.

Clevenger was arraigned on three charges Saturday—one for gaming, one for keeping a gaming house and one for inducing minors to gamble. He pleaded guilty to all three and his bond, $200 in each case, was provided.

BLAKLEY COUGHLIN SMOTHERED TO DEATH

Mystery of Disappearance of Norristown Child Solved by August Pasquale's Confession

DIED WHILE IN HIS ARMS

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 11.—Blakley Coughlin, the missing Norristown baby, was accidentally smothered and later buried near Edd Harbor, New Jersey, by August Pasquale, who confessed of the kidnapping of the child, in the jail at Norristown, yesterday, Major Adams, of the state police, announced today.

Pasquale revealed the complete details of the kidnapping of the child, in the jail, Major Adams stated.

Pasquale sent for him and told of the killing of the baby. He told of entering the Coughlin home, where he took the child and placed it under his coat. At some distance from the home he stopped to take the child from underneath the coat and found that it had been smothered to death.

Major Adams refused to give out any information as to the exact place where the child was buried. Captain Gearhart was sent to the exact vicinity to obtain the body of the child.

"Pasquale told him," Adams declared, "that he had gone into the room where the baby was sleeping and while he was leaving the house he heard a noise, and concealed the baby under his coat. He stated he ran from the home and when a short distance away, he unbuttoned his coat and found the child smothered to death."

In his confession he asserted that he had written a series of notes to the child's parents, demanding $12,000 ransom.

GIVES OUT TEXT OF PARIS SPEECH

White House Makes Public What
President Said in Regard to
Sending Troops Abroad

WAS ASKED TO SHOW RECORD

Senator Spencer Insisted on Text
When Wilson Declined Promising
Foreigners Aid

(By United Press)

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 11.—Standing by his original declaration that President Wilson promised Roumania and Serbia military protection at the eighth preliminary session of the peace conference, Senator Spencer declared there is no difference in substance between the reports of his speech made public by the president and the official stenographic report.

Spencer declared that the report made public by the president was a clear statement promising aid to Serbia and Roumania.

"Nothing can conceal the plans which the president attempted to make for his country, in that American soldiers will be sent overseas whenever needed," Spencer declared.

Spencer again demanded to know why the president does not produce the official records.

Washington, Oct. 11.—The White House made public today what was described as an "official version" of President Wilson's address at the eighth plenary session of the Paris peace conference. The exact wording of this address, directed to the representatives of Roumania, Serbia and Czechoslovakia, has been the subject of a controversy between the President and Senator Spencer.

The senator said in a political speech that the President had promised Roumania and Serbia that "if any nation ever invaded their territory he would send the American army across the seas to defend their boundary lines."

Mr. Wilson in a telegram to the senator October 5 said this statement was "false." In reply, Senator Spencer called for the official record, saying the statement to which he had referred was in the "stenographic notes" of the eighth plenary session, in which the President was "reported to have said: 'You must not forget that it is force that is the final guaranty of the peace of the world. If the world is again troubled the United States will send to this end of the ocean their army and their fleet.'"

The President's words, as given in the official version, follow:

"How can a power like the United States, for example—and I can speak for no other—after signing this treaty, if it contains elements which they do not believe, will be permanent, go 3,000 miles away across the seas and report to its people that it has made a settlement of the peace of the world? It can not do so. And yet there underlies all of these transactions the expectation on the part, for example of Roumania, and of Czechoslovakia, and of Serbia, that if any covetous of this settlement are not observed, the United States will send her armies and her navies to see that they are observed."

The official version of the full text of the President's address was given to the White House last week by Fred A. Carison, of Chicago, who was an official stenographer with the American peace delegation, and who wrote that he was glad to swear to the accuracy of the translation. Mr. Carison's letter was dated October 6, and was addressed to Charles L. Swen, stenographer to the President. He explained that he had read Senator Spencer's reply to the President in the Chicago newspapers; that he had just gone over his notes and that he could find "no such statement" as that attributed to Mr. Wilson by the senator. He added that it was barely possible that the quotation "was from a translation into English of M. Mantoux's translation into French of the President's remarks, and, as you know, the translations sometimes mixed things up a bit."

HARDING AT WICHITA

Wichita, Kansas, Oct. 9.—"America must not go into the league of nations with the idea of slipping out of its obligations," Senator Warren G. Harding declared today in a speech. "What do you think of the honesty of America which tries to sneak out of its promises? I want honest America pledged at home and also across the sea."

Wisdom From Carlyle.

The world is a thing that a man must learn to despise, and even to neglect, before he can learn to reverence it and work in it and for it.—Carlyle.

Last Night's Dreams—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF STATUES?

THE modern scientific investigators of dream phenomena all deny, of course, the prophetic quality of dreams. Except in one regard. They say that perhaps—and they emphasize the "perhaps"—in the dream state some incipient disease or disorder of the system may manifest itself in dream symbolism, which said incipient disease or functional disorder would not be manifest to the dreamer in his waking state because as yet of too trifling a nature to exert an impression upon the mind while occupied by the world of relatives. That there should be found in this way people who still cling to the idea of a supernatural origin of dreams is ascribed by the scientists to the fact that their attempted psychological explanations have, so far, been too inadequate to overcome the accumulated superstitions of the centuries. And when we consider the vast number of years that man has inhabited the earth and that civilization as we know it is but a thing of yesterday—as late as 1740 a cow was criminally prosecuted in a French court and a dog was executed for witchcraft in Salem in 1692—when we consider this, it is not surprising that there linger in us psychic remnants of the days when our naked ancestors shuddered at the jugglery of the Druid priests in the circle of Stonehenge.

To the ancient dreams were serious matters, though as early as the time of Julius Caesar the wise had begun to scoff at them, as will be remembered in connection with the celebrated dream of Caesar's wife Calphurnia. On the night before Caesar's assassination she dreamed that she saw her husband's statue running with blood from many wounds and the Romans coming to bathe their hands in the purple stream. She begged Caesar not to go to the senate that day, but he refused to stay away lest the senators should laugh at him for being afraid "because his wife had had a dream." Calphurnia's dream was probably born of her anxiety for the safety of her husband, but the mystics agree with her in regarding it an unfavorable omen to dream of a statue. They say, however, that if you dream of several statues, you will shortly receive a valuable present from an esteemed friend—a case, apparently, of safety in numbers.

The Revenge of Lycurgus.

"Which of us does not admire what Lycurgus the Spartan did? A young citizen had put out his eye and been handed over to him by his people to be punished at his own discretion. Lycurgus abstained from all vengeance, but on the contrary instructed and made a good man of him. Producing him in public in the theater, he said to the astonished Spartans: 'I received this young man at your hands full of violence and wanton insolence; I restore him to you in his right mind and fit to serve his country.'—From 'The Golden Sayings of Epictetus.'"

Amusements

"The Prey" for 2 Days

In "The Prey", by Joseph Le Brandt, and Alice Joyce special Vitagraph production, the popular star has unusual opportunities for the display of her remarkable powers of expression on the screen. At the opening of the picture drama of society, finance and reform politics, which will be shown at the Princess theater on Monday and Tuesday, as Holene Reardon she appears as a joyous, healthy and beautiful young woman who has just said "Yes" to a handsome and altogether desirable young man. Her father calls her fiance, whom he has helped raise in his profession, and Helen goes to her room, cooing over her engagement ring.

At first in her mirror, then in profile and full face, is seen the changing expression, of perplexity, alarm and distress, as she hears the voices of her father and her lover raised in anger. She creeps down the stairway and hears her father call James Calvin "an ungrateful cur".

Calvin refuses to explain to Helen, as he could not so without accusing her father, and she gives him back the ring.

In many tense scenes which follow Helen is horrified over her father's suicide, shocked and troubled by the danger to her brother, disgusted and angered at the conduct of the man circumstances have compelled her to marry, and in the end triumphant over all circumstances.

The role is a splendid one in every way for Miss Joyce, and splendidly the charming Vitagraph star has risen to the occasion.

The Great Red Plague

There was a time when the average person gave no thought and would not lend any support to a movement designed to check the spread of venereal diseases, but the war opened the eyes of many, who were not aware of the true conditions. Since the close of the war, too, the prevalence of the great red plague has aroused the medical fraternity to renewed efforts to stamp

it out. Considerable publicity will be given the effort which is now being made to educate the public in regard to this menace when the All-American conference meets in Washington in December to discuss methods of combatting the plague.

The extent of this loss to employers whose working forces it decimates, to working men whose pay envelopes it depletes, and to the country at large whose production it reduces was scarcely suspected until the Army records of the millions of young men examined for the War were studied. Before then it was suspected to be great, but no one imagined that it was anything like so great as it has now been proved to be.

The records show that every thousand men in the army lost on an average more than 300 days per year—1,600,000 days for five million soldiers in the prime of life, and if the loss was so great among men subject to military discipline and under orders to seek immediate help, how great, it is now asked, must it be among the same men when in civil life, when no discipline is possible. The ravages of hookworm disease in certain parts of the country are a drop in the bucket compared to the ravages of the great red plague.

Many possible methods of checking the plague in workshops and factories have been suggested and will be threshed out at the conference, which will be attended by the most experienced physicians and administrators that the nations of the three Americas can send.

There is today no longer any doubt that medical science now possesses means that would enable it to conquer the red plague as completely as it has conquered smallpox and yellow fever if it were given free scope to apply them. The real trouble nowadays arises largely from ignorance and from the hesitation of so many sufferers to seek reliable medical aid until the disease has established itself and has become difficult to dislodge. With modern methods the red plague is now definitely curable.

The conditions now confronting the people of this country are somewhat similar to those that confront

the British in their work of eradicating the bubonic (black) plague in India. There the first thought of the average native, when stricken by disease, is to hide himself in the crowded warrens of the city and to die there, after exposing to his disease everyone within reach. With the British as with us the first problem is to induce the victims to come forward before it is too late.

Through the efforts of the U. S. public health service and others engaged in combatting the red plague many of the states in the country have begun to provide facilities where its victims can obtain adequate diagnosis and treatment, including the administration of 606 when required. Much still needs to be done in this direction and it will be one of the aims of the conference to arouse states and municipi-

Sen. Reed is from Missouri. He would like to know something about the president's secret speeches before the conference, and just how many troops he promised to send from America to protect Serbia and Roumania's integrity. Although still a democrat, the senator can not swallow the Wilson league of nations dotted "i's", crossed "t's" and all.

No doubt the republican committee would be glad to pay the expenses of Franklin Roosevelt's campaign tour through Indiana because he offers one sure way of increasing the majority.

Evidently finding the issues of the campaign beyond him, Tom Taggart is now devoting his attention to long orations on good roads in his campaign tour throughout Indiana.

The number of farms in Indiana has decreased four and eight-tenths percent in the last ten years, which is some indication of the Hoosier farmer's prosperity.

Harding's Vision

(New Albany Tribune)

Senator Harding is getting off more "good stuff" in his speeches than has been uttered by any other Presidential candidate in recent year. What Harding says rings true and is true. The American people believe in him and have confidence in what he says. Harding seeks a return to "The Main Road." He predicts dark days unless a change occurs very soon. He sees a "no hour" day if our country is too proud to work and we should continue the One-Man Wilson policy. Harding urges that Americans be not too proud to work as there is great joy in a day of productive work. He says: "Undeniably there is a feeling permeating the American mind that great harm has been done by unwise heads and prodigal hands." Let our watchword be "America First."

THE WATERMELON

THE watermelon is a pleasing and harmless beverage which is 20 per cent water and 80 per cent seeds, much on the order of picnic lemonade. Owing to the lack of alcohol in the watermelon, it is much in favor with the clergy and can be shipped into a dry state without requiring the customer to swear that it is bought for medicinal purposes only.

Watermelons are grown largely in the South and are used to sustain and inflame the colored brother. When a greedy, wabble-jointed cotton hand has wrapped himself around a thirty-pound watermelon and settled back for a sonorous nap, he will look as if somebody had attached a tire pump to him and forgotten to shut off the engine. The look of perfect contentment which fastens itself upon the face of a Georgia darkey who has eaten six or eight two-story watermelons, seeds and all, is enough to cause a hardened dyspeptic to jump off the lake front.

The watermelon has been grown in this country for a hundred years and thousands have been eaten by our college professors and other shining intellects, but nobody has ever discovered a way to prevent it from running to seeds and clogging up the windpipe of the trustful Northerner. The watermelon would be served at polite social functions more if it were not for the harrowing fear on the part of the hostess that some nervous male guest will get a few seeds upside down in his neck and have to be operated on with a pair of duckbill pliers. To a country which boasts the incubator baby and the noncorrosive banana the presence of the watermelon seed is a standing reproach.

Watermelons intended for shipment are picked before they have had time to get ripe anywhere except on the surface, when they are sent into the far North and bought unsight and unseen by people who hope for the best. All such purchases are usually followed by disappointment and a rebellious uprising in the stomach. Economical housewives try to get even by manufacturing the watermelon pickle, which is fed all winter to cowed husbands, who are too broken-spirited to resist.

The watermelon is a great delicacy when it is allowed to stretch out and get ripe internally. If there were more of this kind of watermelons to be had, the average grocer would not wear such a hunted look.

Tanlac Display Makes Great Hit

Unique And Attractive Display Of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest, has been placed in the show window of the F. B. Johnson & Company drug store, on Main street, in this city, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietors of the store state that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist.

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, llamas and other beasts of burden for transportation by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day.

From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body-builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they received, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their products in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manilla by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McGarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2—Adv.

TOOTHsome DAINTIES.

Some of these dishes may be a little too much work for every day, but will be found very satisfactory for occasions:

Chestnut Salad.

Cook one pound of Italian chestnuts, shelled and blanched, in chicken or veal broth seasoned with vegetables. When tender, let cool and cut in shreds. Cut tomato jelly into cubes or other shapes, shred half a green pepper, cut a bunch of lettuce or endive into shreds. Wash and dry the hearts of two heads of lettuce. Arrange the lettuce on salad plates, sprinkle with the shredded foods, and set a tomato cube above. Pour over two tablespoonfuls of dressing and serve at once. To prepare the jelly: Soak one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of cold water. Place over the heat two cupfuls and a half of tomato, three branches of parsley, half a dozen celery tips, one-fourth of a bay leaf, half an onion with two cloves thrust into it, half a teaspoonful of salt, paprika or a piece of chili pepper, a tablespoonful of dried mushrooms. Let simmer twenty minutes and press through a fine sieve. Add the softened gelatin, stir until dissolved, then turn into a dish to mold. When cold use as above.

Dressing for Chestnut Salad.

Cut a Bermuda onion in halves and with a sharp knife scrape the juice from one-half of the onion into a bowl. Add one-third of a cupful of vinegar, one-fourth of a cupful of tomato catsup, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one teaspoonful of mushroom catsup, half a teaspoonful of paprika and half a teaspoonful of salt. Stir until well blended with three-fourths of a cupful of olive oil.

Lightning Cake.

Beat half a cupful of butter to a cream, add gradually one-half cupful of sugar, the yolks of four eggs, beat until light, add three tablespoonfuls of milk and lastly one cupful of flour, sifted with one teaspoonful of baking powder. Spread the mixture in a shallow baking pan. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff; gradually beat into them three-fourths of a cupful of sugar, then fold in one-half cupful of almonds, blanched and shredded lengthwise. Spread this mixture evenly over the cake, dredge the top with sugar and cinnamon and bake thirty minutes. Cut in strips when serving.

Potato Dumplings.

Take two cupfuls of mashed potatoes, add salt and nutmeg to taste, one egg well beaten, half a cupful of buttered cubes of bread browned in butter, one teaspoonful of chopped parsley or marjoram; mix well, form into balls rolled in flour and cook in boiling salted water ten minutes. Remove carefully from the dish, cover with buttered breadcrumbs, browned in butter.

Tongue Canapes.

Toast rounds of bread and spread them to the edge with butter, beaten to a cream and mixed with mustard; have ready some rounds of cold boiled tongue, cut thin and a little smaller than the rounds, of toast; there should be a ring of mustard butter completely round the tongue. With a paper tube pipe a little of the mustard butter in the center of each canape and serve very cold.

From Sea's Depths.

A two-inch section of sea-bottom with its tiny animal and plant life magnified 15,000 times has been reproduced in glass and wax at the American Museum of Natural History, New York. It is called the Bryozoa group, taking its name from the minute sea-animal's popularly called sea-mats and sea-mosses, that it depicts. Their shells are encrusted on sea-weeds, pebbles and the shells of larger animals, and are said to be extremely beautiful in their intricate form and coloring. The "plumed worm" with its gay colors and other strange microscopic creatures, of which the average person seldom dreams, complete the group.

Oldest Inhabitants.

Fossil turtles ranging from 3,000,000 to 7,000,000 years in age, have been found in San Juan county, northern New Mexico.

His Wife Almost A Nervous Wreck

He tells how Dreco overcame cold sweats, heart fluttering, gastritis, headaches and roused a lazy liver, banished constipation.

"My wife Margaret was in such bad health that we were very much alarmed about her. She had cold sweats and heart weakness and was so dizzy and unsteady on her feet that she didn't want to go out for fear she would fall," said Mr. J. N. Christianberry who resides at 1313 Liberty Ave., Terre Haute, Ind.

"Night meant one long line of terror for her; it was sometime before she could get to sleep, then her sleep was fitful, full of bad dreams and she would jump almost out of bed, awakening badly frightened. Her head ached so, along with a sick stomach that she just couldn't eat and what little she did eat wouldn't digest, but formed gas, she suffered from constipation daily.

"She has taken three bottles of Dreco, which soother her nerves until she sleeps like a tired child, eats and enjoys whatever she wants having no bad after-effects and her bowels discharge the wastes of the body in a normal easy and regular manner. She has no more trouble with her kidneys and says she wants all the world to know that Dreco has made a woman of her."

All druggists now sell Dreco and it is being especially introduced in Rushville by F. B. Johnson & Co.—Adv.

HENRY WAS "near."
IN OTHER words, tight.
HE CARRIED two packs,
OF CIGARETTES.
ONE FOR friend Henry,
FULL OF "Satisfys."
AND THE other containing,
JUST ONE cigarette,
AND THAT lone cigarette,
WAS ALWAYS offered,
TO SMOKELESS friends,
WHO WERE all polite.
AND REFUSED to take it,
AND SOMEHOW Henry,
WAS NOT popular.
TILL ONE day by mistake,
HE PULLED the full pack,
AND EVERYONE fell on it,
WITH LOUD cries of glee.
HIS STRONG constitution,
CARRIED HENRY through,
AND DAY by day,
HE GREW more popular.
AND HENRY knew why.
FOR HE'S nobody's dummy.
AND NOWADAYS he not only,
CARRIES THE cigarettes,

BUT FORCES 'em on people.
GIVES AWAY packs of 'em,

TAIL LIGHTS WIN OVER OLD PITCHER

Role Out Six Hits on Plummer in Game With Homer Sunday, Winning by Score of 4 to 1

VISITORS HELD TO ONE HIT

With their old favorite on the mound for their opponents, the Tail Lights won from Homer, 4 to 1, not because Plummer pitched a poor game but because he was not given the proper support. The local team only gleaned six hits off their former idol, but the errors of the Homer team made it possible for them to pile up a safe margin.

Neideffer was on the mound for the Tail Lights and held the Homer team to one hit, which, together with four errors, made it possible for the visitors to score. Homer strengthened in an effort to win, but couldn't turn the trick.

There was a large crowd out for the game and the interest in the game was high because Homer came "loaded" to win. The Tail Lights will probably play New Salem here next Sunday.

Neglect Keeps Doctors Busy

An eminent physician once said: "Were it not for people who neglect the early symptoms of disease, many doctors would have to find a new way to make a living."

Every winter doctors are busy calling on gripe and snuffle patients because the first symptoms of colds were neglected.

Watch out for a cold this year. At the first sneeze and snuffle take Lightning Laxative-Quinine Tablets. You'll stop the cold and feel like a new person in 24 hours. Never gripe or sicken. Druggists guarantee them, 25c a box.

Lightning
LAXATIVE
QUININE TABLETS

Look Out for Rheumatism As Winter Approaches

So many cases of Rheumatism come from a tiny disease germ that infests the blood, that physicians are beginning to realize that this source of the disease is becoming quite prevalent. Of course a disease that has its source in the blood cannot be reached by local remedies applied to the surface. One remedy that has given splendid results in the treatment of Rheumatism is S.S.S., the fine old blood remedy that has been sold by druggists for more than fifty years. S.S.S. acts by driving out of the blood the disease germ that causes Rheumatism, thus affording real relief.

Begin taking S.S.S. today and if you will write a complete history of your case, your medical director will give you expert advice, without charge. Address: Chief Medical Adviser, 151 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

The old Glenwood M. E. church, which has been replaced by the modern brick house of worship recently completed, was sold at auction Saturday afternoon to Thomas A. Reed of Glenwood for $262. Mr. Reed will raze the building at once. It stands on the back end of the lot where the new church was built. The structure, which was constructed at a cost of $30,000, will be formally dedicated at an all day meeting Sunday, November 7. The principal address on that occasion will be made by Bishop Lee of the new Indiana area of the Methodist church and there will also be sermons by Dr. J. M. Walker, the district superintendent, and pastors of the district. A week's special meeting will precede the dedication.

SHIPPED TO BELGIUM

Chickens are Sent From Purdue to The Near East Country

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 11—Two dozen hens, half of them White Leghorns and the other half Plymouth Rocks, have been shipped from the Purdue University poultry farm to Francis Masson, Rue Joseph Lambiet, Junete, Belgium, who expects to use them for egg production and also keep some of their eggs for hatching purposes. For several years Mr. Masson lived in the United States and heard of the high egg laying strains developed at Purdue and when he returned to Belgium ordered the hens through his son-in-law, David H. Padgett, a Vincennes attorney. Masson reported that eggs were now selling at $1.32 a dozen in Belgium and that he expected them to go to $2.40 before the winter was over.

WEST COAST IS READY FOR TITLE

Foot Ball Teams From Mexico to Canada are Numerous and all are Strong

MANY IMPORTANT GAMES ON

Oregon Will be Strong With Same Team That Held Harvard to Standstill Last Year

By M. D. TRACY

San Francisco, Oct. 11—It looks like a tough year for pigs.

There will have to be a heap of them slaughtered, for Pacific Coast footballers are going to kick more pigskins around the gridiron this year than in many a year past.

American football on the coast finally has come into its own once more, after surviving the combined attacks of the war and the importation of the Rugby game. Colleges from Canada to Mexico have launched the season with full schedules and with coaches and backers loudly proclaiming that they have the real stuff.

What's more the general public is taking heed, and listening with the result that there is more football interest in the west than there has been for a decade.

With the season just opening the University of California, the University of Southern California and Washington State, the University of Washington and Oregon Agricultural seem to be the outstanding teams of their respective sections.

But the general situation is far from clear for Stanford and the southern branch of the University of California have big squads out and dopesters almost without exception regard them as mysterious elements. Stanford came back to the American game and the inner circle of collegiate sport last year after first prolonging a flirtation with Rugby and then quarreling with the University of California over the question of permitting freshmen to play. Last year her showing was a bit sorry. But this year Stanford is "viewed with alarm" by numerous gridiron seers.

The University of California southern Branch in Los Angeles boasts an enrollment of 2,500 and with Harry Trotter as coach, is promising to put some exotic seasoning into the coast football pudding.

In the Pacific northwest Washington State and the University of Washington have strong back fields, while the Oregon Aggies are concentrating on the development of a line, feeling that their backs are in a class with any.

The University of Oregon team which fought Harvard to a standstill in the East-West game on New Year's Day at Pasadena, will be weakened considerably this year by the loss of many of its veterans. Coach Shy Huntington, is about all there is left of last year's machine.

The University of California is conceded things pretty much its own way in northern California, unless Stanford carries out its threat to spoil the dope sheets.

Southern California is backing the University of Southern California to beat the University of California and represent the west in the East-West game at Pasadena. The Methodists have many of their last year's men back on the squad. Pomona's team is virtually the same as last year—light and speedy. Occidental is admittedly weak.

Two important intersectional games are scheduled, both with northwestern teams representing the coast, in addition to the Pasadena classic New Year's day. Washington State will play Nebraska at Lincoln on Nov. 25 and Dartmouth will play the University of Washington at Seattle November 27.

$200,000 OF DIAMONDS STOLEN FROM AGENT

M. Lowenthal, Representing Philip Present Company, Attacked by Two Men in New York

FOLLOWED HIM FROM CHICAGO

Brooklyn, New York, Oct. 11—Two hundred thousand dollars worth of set diamonds were stolen from M. Lowenthal, agent for the Philip Present Company, wholesale jewelers, of Rochester, New York, by two men here Saturday.

When Lowenthal stepped from the street car on his way to his home, carrying the diamonds in two suitcases, he was attacked by the two men.

After knocking their victim down and forcing him to give up the diamonds at the point of a revolver, they jumped into a taxicab and drove away. The driver of the taxicab drove the two men to the front of the police station. When he went into the station to call the police the two robbers escaped.

Shortly afterward two suspected men were seen throwing a suitcase into a vacant lot. When the suitcase was examined, it had been looted of its valuable but two or three diamonds were left.

Lowenthal believes the robbers had followed him from Chicago, where he purchased the diamonds. The diamonds were set in platinum.

Coal Don't Waste It!

YOU can save coal this winter if you don't burn more than you actually need to keep your home comfortable. Alternately over-heating and under-heating your house is one of the chief causes of wasted fuel and this can be entirely overcome by the installation of

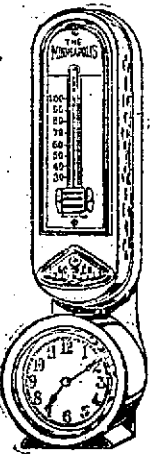

The "MINNEAPOLIS" HEAT REGULATOR

It is an automatic device that takes over the working of the drafts and dampers of any style heating plant. It keeps the home at an even temperature all the time—no more coal is burned than is actually needed.

Your home will be really more comfortable and healthful with less worry and attention than ever before. It takes over the bothersome work of managing the furnace.

THE "MINNEAPOLIS" WILL SOON PAY FOR ITSELF IN FUEL SAVED.

When a Woman is Nervous—Worried

The lives of most women are full of worry. Men's troubles are bad enough, but women's are worse. Worry makes women sick. It pulls them down, and in their weakened condition they are subject to pains, aches, weakness, backaches, headaches and dizzy spells.

Most women neglect their health, and for this they pay the penalty. Any woman will find that neglect does not pay. A little more attention to health would brighten up her life. If she asks her neighbors she finds that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription benefits a woman's whole system. It not only acts upon the troubles and weaknesses peculiar to women, but is an all-around tonic that braces the entire body, overcoming nervousness, sleeplessness, headaches, dizziness and a run-down condition.

MOUNT VERNON, ILL.—"I am glad to say that Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription proved just as good as it is advertised to be. I was weak and lacked strength and ambition. I had worked hard and was poorly. I used the 'Favorite Prescription' and it gave me new strength, and seemed to put new life in me. I was pleased that it did so much for me and I am very glad to recommend it." Mrs. WILL NEWBY, No. 1213 West Broadway.
